We had a very cold and windy match for April with around 20 entries and the temperature never got above 50 degrees and with a steady 15-20 mph wind gust it made for a great eye watering shooting day. There were no 40x40s this month but Lynn Shultz made a good effort in big bore UAS with a 39 and a few of the little ones. Despite the wind Bruce Smith had a good big bore standing score to top the INT class with a 27x40 and Jim Kelly brought his Anschutz out of the moth balls after 10 years to shoot a 33x40 in small bore U-AAA. Overall the match went smooth and a big thanks to all who have taken on added responsibilities as we have restructured our organization going into the 2017 season. Hope to see all at our May match with better weather and bring a friend to introduce them to the great sport of shooting steel. Till next month, safe shooting. Steve
